

The First Joint Conference of the ISO & Sugar Producers of the Customs Union
«CIS Sugar Market.

Self-Sufficiency: from Political Objective to Economic Reality»

March 1-2, 2012 · Radisson SAS Slavyanskaya, Moscow

Russia and neighbouring countries took the global sugar market by surprise in the second half of 2011 when it became apparent that the CIS region would produce a record sugar beet crop reducing dramatically import demand for sugar from the world market. How sustainable are these record high levels of beet sugar production? What has to be done to maintain the output at the level achieved in 2011? Will Russia, Ukraine and Belarus become regular exporters of sugar to Central Asia and beet pulp and molasses to the world market? How competitive is beet sugar from Eastern Europe internationally and in Asia, in particular? These are the main topics of the Conference.

On 2nd March as an integral part of the event the round table “Bioethanol and biogas – new opportunities in the beet sugar industry” will take place, where a team of internationally renowned specialists will share their practical experience in this exciting area.

Simultaneous interpretation will be provided in English and Russian.

The registration fee of EUR350 also covers lunch and an evening reception on 1st March and online access to the Conference Proceedings immediately following the event.

We expect an active participation in the conference of representatives of major sugar producing and trading companies, as well as industrial users and bankers. Space is strictly limited, so early registration is recommended.
